SCENT MYSTERY IN ROBBERY OF $10,000 IN GEMS

Hotel Guest Reports Theft in Residence.

R. E. Nathan, who is in the brush manufacturing business at 412 West Erie street and is living in the Hotel Sherman, reported to the detective bureau last night that "there had been a burglary at the home of Mrs. B. L. Nathan, 404 Bowen avenue."

"It occurred some time between 7 o'clock Saturday night and 7 o'clock Sunday morning," he said. "A necklace of ninety pearls, valued at $10,000, and a diamond monogram bar pin worth $2,000 were taken from a jewel box on a dresser."

Another Valuation.

Lieut. Martin Mullen pointed the Fifth street police, and Detectives Bole and Haab were assigned to investigate.

Nathan was later reached by a Tribune reporter in his room at the hotel. He was asked about the value of the jewels.

"The necklace is worth $7,000, and the bar pin is worth $1,800," he said. "Is Mrs. Nathan your wife?"

He wouldn't explain.

Mr. Nathan refused to answer this question, but insisted the robbery "was on the square."

"There is nothing of public interest in this," he said, "and if it becomes public it will stir up a lot of trouble for some people."

He wouldn't explain what he meant.

Reading Iron Company to Have Employees' Council

Reading, Pa., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—The Reading Iron company, through President Leon Thomas, today announced a plan of employees' representation had been adopted, subject to the approval of the 7,000 workmen on the company's payrolls. Each plant is to establish a local council, the employees by secret ballot to elect the members. Each council will elect a delegate to a central council to confer with company officials on wages, hours, shop conditions and grievances.

STUDENT KILLED IN BLIZZARD ON N. H. MOUNTAIN

Thinly Clad, Unable to Stand Exposure.

Dublin, N. H., Feb. 15.—Charles MacVeagh Jr. of New York, a graduate student at Princeton and son of the counsel for the United States Steel corporation, died of exposure on Mount Monadnock today during an attempted snowshoe trip to the summit in company with Charlton Reynolds of New York, a senior at Harvard.

The young men started on their trip yesterday afternoon in excellent weather, but soon a blinding snowstorm and high winds developed, making it impossible for them to reach the summit. When a half mile from the top they abandoned the attempt and started to return. At that time it was dark and soon they lost their way.

Deceived by the mild weather when they started, they were thinly clad, without overcoats, hats, or gloves.

Dies from Exhaustion.

MacVeagh soon showed signs of exhaustion, falling several times, and about 9 o'clock dropped unconscious. Reynolds, who was also suffering from exhaustion, protected his companion as best he could, but MacVeagh died at about 4 o'clock this morning.

At about the time MacVeagh fell unconscious Fred Nettleton, caretaker of the MacVeagh estate here, who had become alarmed at the failure of the young men to return, started up the mountain on snowshoes in an attempt to find them. He discharged his revolver frequently and eventually Reynolds heard and answered with his own revolver.

Companion's Condition Not Serious.

Nettleton assisted Reynolds down the mountain and returned for the body, bringing it out just before nightfall. Reynolds' condition tonight was said not to be serious.

The two young men came to the MacVeagh summer home last Thursday for a few days' outing.

MacVeagh was 22 years old and was graduated from Harvard last June. He was specializing in languages at Princeton.

SUGAR FROM FIRS IN CANADA; GREEN COTTON IN SOUTH

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Discovery of the growth of sugar on fir trees in British Columbia is announced in the current number of the American Forestry Magazine. The discovery resulted from investigations by Prof. John Davidson of the University of British Columbia at Vancouver.

Specimens are said to have indicated the presence of a large percentage of an extremely rare variety of sugar. Indians have made use of the sugar for many years, the article states.

Grows Green Cotton Crop.

Dalton, Ga., Feb. 15.—Production of green cotton, an objective long sought by scientists, was claimed today by C. F. O'Brien, a farmer. The cotton is said to be of a beautiful green color and of fine fiber.

FIRE DESTROYS 500 LBS. OF MAIL IN POSTOFFICE

Fire of unexplained origin in the general delivery section of the north wing of the postoffice last night destroyed 500 pounds of second class mail, bulk consigned to the dead letter office as unclaimed or lacking address.

Street car and automobile traffic in and out of the loop in Adams, Dearborn and Clark streets and Jackson boulevard was suspended by the leads of hose and parked apparatus. The fire was discovered by Abraham London, a box clerk, across the hall about 8:30 o'clock.

It was necessary to chop away the flooring around the shaft, as the flames had seeped some distance under it. The damage was estimated by Postmaster Carlisle at $500.

Rich, Rare, and Racy is New Lid of Lloyd George

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Lloyd George has challenged Winston Churchill's eccentric headgear.

It was a magnificent challenge and when the prime minister emerged from 10 Downing street crowds surrounded him.

It is not a Derby, not a topper, not the lid of a French priest. But it is a combination of all three. Its material is the shining silk of which topers are made, its shape is the oval of a derby, but of topper height, while its brim is the wide, upward curving brim beloved of French priests.

It is a rare specimen, is Lloyd George's new hat.

SINN FEINERS HURL BOMBS IN ULSTER RAID

Wound 4 Police in County Monaghan.

BELFAST, Feb. 15.—A large body of Sinn Feiners attacked the police barracks at Bellatrain, County Monaghan, today, employing explosives. The Sinn Feiners overcame the small garrison, four of whom were wounded, and then removed the arms and ammunition. This is the first attack on barracks in Ulster.

Hurl Bomb at Train.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—A train conveying a military guard and arms was held up outside of Dublin Friday night by a large band of armed men, who shot and seriously wounded a signalman and threw bombs into the train, wounding a corporal and doing much damage. The guard did not reply to the fire, owing to the darkness.

The wife of a farmer at Ballagh, Wexford, resisting armed raiders, was shot dead.

A well known veterinary surgeon, Dr. McSweeney, was shot and wounded by a party of armed raiders in his residence in Cork last night. McSweeney mortally wounded one of the raiders.

ASSAULTS BRITISH METHODS

BELFAST, Feb. 15.—[By the Associated Press.]—Cardinal Logue in his Lenten pastoral to the diocese of Armagh says:

"Not within living memory can we find in Ireland such calamitous conditions as exist at present—drastic repression on one side and retaliation on the other; a military régime rivaling in severity even that of countries under the most pitiless autocratic government; vindictive sentences out of all proportion to alleged transgressions; letters cachet or arbitrary arrests more frequent than in pre-revolutionary France; deportations such as raised a wild cry of reprobation against Germany when it was in military occupation of Belgium.

"These and similar acts of power can not fail to create exasperation, recklessness, despair, and general disorder."

"Crime Can't Aid Rights."

"On the other side, there is retaliation, lawlessness, and crime such as any man guided by God's law must regret and reprobate. Crime can never aid us in the assertion of our rights."

"On the contrary, we find it our greatest obstacle. It alienates sympathy, creates prejudice, mars the fair fame of our country, discourages our friends, and strengthens the hands of our enemies, and furnishes still greater oppression and tends to justify the wrongs we suffer from."

"However we may suffer for the present, we may console ourselves by the conviction that this state of things can not last. It can not stand in the light of public opinion."

Preaches Against Force.

"Force can not be a substitute for good government. It has failed more than once, even in the memory of the present generation, involving in its failure the political doom of its advocates."

"If the prediction of Gen. Smuts is not to be verified, England will sooner or later find it to her interest to commit the destinies of this country to some enlightened statesman who will rely more on justice and good government than on political strategy."

CONGRESS SHOULD ACT

Many senators and representatives are of the opinion that the Lansing incident discloses a critical condition in the executive branch of the government warranting investigation, but the constitutional lawyers say congress could not legally undertake what would amount to an investigation of the presidential office.

There is a widespread opinion that congress should provide without delay for a vice presidential succession during the temporary inability of a president and for determining such inability.

Senator Sherman of Illinois is the author of a bill now pending in the senate providing procedure for investigating the vice president with executive authority in event of the inability of the president to act and he said today he intends to seek early consideration of the measure.

Talk of Lansing Successor.

Speculation as to Mr. Lansing's successor continued to involve the names of Frank L. Polk, who yesterday became secretary ad interim by virtue of his office as counselor of the state department; Secretary of War Baker, John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain, and Hugh C. Wallace, ambassador to France.

Although Mr. Polk was among those most often mentioned, there was nothing to indicate any change from his known determination to return to private life and the practice of law.

Official intimation was given tonight that Mr. Lansing's successor might be appointed before the end of the week, even though it was said there was "no hurry about it," as Mr. Polk can serve as secretary ad interim for a period of thirty days.

Brain Workers of Paris Join 'Labor' Federation

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Intellectual workers in this city have formed a federation which has been given recognition by labor organizations. Dramatists, engineers, scientists, teachers, artists, poets, song writers, journalists, and dramatic poets are eligible to membership in the federation.

PRESIDENT IS CALM BEFORE MANY CRITICS

Capitol Sees Crisis in Executive Branch.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—The universal condemnation of the president for dismissing Secretary of State Lansing on unproved charges of usurping executive authority, probably the most impressive manifestation of public disapproval of the act of a president in the history of the nation, left Mr. Wilson unperturbed today, according to J. P. Tumulty, his private secretary.

Secretary Tumulty passed an hour this morning with the president, who was in his invalid chair on the lawn before the south portico of the White House. Mr. Wilson was chiefly interested in demonstrating his recovery of physical vigor. He hooked his cane to a post and swung his chair around in a semi-circle, exclaiming, "See how strong I am getting."

Mr. Wilson is so confident of his recovered health that he intends to call a cabinet meeting and preside over it himself. The meeting may be held some day this week.

Reads Reams of Criticism.

The president today read a Washington morning paper in which were scores of interviews with senators and representatives and excerpts from press comment, not one of which, whether from Democratic or Republican sources, defended his reasons for calling for the resignation of Mr. Lansing.

When the secretary was leaving Mr. Wilson asked him to send him the New York World, for seven years the chief newspaper organ of the administration, and the New York Times, also a Democratic newspaper. He found that the World called for a bill of particulars, while the Times asserted that "Mr. Lansing's conscientious effort to provide for the continuance of public business during the president's illness was not a sufficient reason for rebuking him and asking his retirement."

No More Cabinet Defections.

Mr. Tumulty again asserted that there had been no additional cabinet resignations and predicted there would be none. He still declined to discuss his own connection with the cabinet sessions which the president asserted were held without his knowledge and contrary to "constitutional law and practice."

Efforts to identify the "certain members of the cabinet" who, Mr. Lansing says, advised the holding of these meetings, were no more successful than yesterday. They continued to conceal their complicity in the offense for which the president indicted Mr. Lansing by refusing to discuss the affair or in some instances to receive the interviewer.

Congress Should Act.

Many senators and representatives are of the opinion that the Lansing incident discloses a critical condition in the executive branch of the government warranting investigation, but the constitutional lawyers say congress could not legally undertake what would amount to an investigation of the presidential office.

There is a widespread opinion that congress should provide without delay for a vice presidential succession during the temporary inability of a president and for determining such inability.

THREATENS TO QUIT EUROPE

"President Wilson declares that if the allied powers settle the Adriatic problem without consulting the government of the United States, the latter will find it impossible to continue to concern itself with European affairs."

"The American memorandum was quickly examined by the allied chiefs before Mr. Millerand left London this morning."

"It is known that the chiefs of the allied governments had previously handed Mr. Trumbitch, the Jugo-Slav foreign minister in London, a note asking him to request his government to reply categorically as quickly as possible to the last note by which the premiers of England and France notified the Belgrade government of the treaty of London and called on it to subscribe to the Lloyd George project with the alternative of having the treaty of London enforced."

Compares Wilson to Despot.

Paris got its first news of President Wilson's move in a London dispatch from Pertinax, the political editor of the Echo de Paris, in which he said:

"Not content with dismissing Lansing, his secretary of state, in a tone that no Russian despot ever employed toward his most faulty minister, Wilson has mixed in the business of the London conference. In a note addressed to the governments of France, England, and Italy he declares that on the question of the Adriatic he holds the point of view expressed in the documents handed Italy last December by the United States, England, and France. If his advice is not taken he threatens to retire from the conference of Paris."

"It is inadmissible that Wilson—an autocrat, truly, but an autocrat who is about to fall—should be allowed to impose his political conceptions upon the question, within a year, Republicans will rule at the White House and, in all probability, will immediately denounce all his conceptions."

The American King.

The intransigent tonight says:

"Wilson threatens the conference with his withdrawal from its bosom if it adopts any other than his solution for the Adriatic problem; and, inasmuch as the United States possesses a great mass of pounds sterling, francs, and lire, the diplomats in London probably will not wish to unchain the thunderbolts of the American king."

La Liberté says:

"Once more the personal wishes of a statesman who is combated in his own country and who has not been able to obtain the ratification of the treaty come to counteract the efforts of the great European powers to remedy the present confusion. America can help by keeping out."

"Lloyd George and Millerand have just given formal promises to Nitti that before the London conference ends the Adriatic will be settled by the acceptance of a compromise or by the enforcement of the treaty of London. To this promise Mr. Wilson puts his veto. Closed in his proud isolation, irritated by his malady, without contact with the allied cabinets or with his own ministers, the unreasonable president of the United States pretends to direct from the White House affairs of Europe, of which he has not the slightest conception."

ACTS AS STONE IN POOL

PARIS, Feb. 16, 3 a. m.—Commenting on President Wilson's note to the supreme allied council relative to the compromise agreement on the Adriatic question, the Journal says it was "a large paving stone in the conference pond." This aptly sums up the trend of French opinion. There is no attempt to disguise the fact that the incident creates a serious situation. England and France, according to the newspapers here, are "placed between the devil and the deep sea."

Although Mr. Wilson's attitude is viewed as excessive in the light of the "discredit" thrown upon his policy by the resistance of the senate, yet the fact remains Mr. Wilson is absolutely

CURB ITALY OR U. S. WILL QUIT PEACE PARLEY, EUROPE TOLD

Sharp Fiume Note Stirs Paris and London.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—President Wilson has notified the British, French and Italian governments that if they settle the Adriatic problem without the concurrence of Washington, the United States will not concern itself further in the settlement of pending European questions. He declares that neither of the proposed solutions is compatible with the American attitude.

This notification was contained in a note handed to the French foreign office late yesterday by Ambassador Wallace, and at the same time handed to the British government in London and the Italian government in Rome.

French Excited by Note.

It reached the allied governments the day after Premier Lloyd George and Millerand in London had promised Premier Nitti that before he left the British capital either the compromise plan of Jan. 20 or the treaty of London would be put in force.

French diplomats are greatly excited over President Wilson's action. They say that the American government will take no part in the discussions of the council of premiers, to which it is invited, but insists that the premiers' decisions must be shaped in accordance with Washington's wishes.

Italians Are Disturbed.

Italian circles in allied capitals are reported to be greatly disturbed over the note.

Premier Millerand has explained the reported negotiations between France and Jugo-Slavia last fall, by which, it is said, a community of interest between the two countries would be recognized in the Adriatic, according to London advice to the Journal. It is said members of the supreme allied council are satisfied with the statement made by the French premier.

Premier Millerand has called a cabinet meeting for Tuesday to hear his account of the London negotiations. He will also make a statement on the diplomatic situation to the senate committee of foreign affairs.

The French press tonight takes up the question in a sensational manner and its comment is bitter.

Semi-Official Report.

The Temps publishes the following semi-official report:

"The ambassador of the United States yesterday handed to the minister of foreign affairs a memorandum by which the government of the United States expresses its opinion on the Adriatic problem. The same memorandum was handed yesterday to the British government in London."

"The government of the United States criticized the Lloyd George proposal which was communicated to the Jugo-Slavs by the supreme council Jan. 26. Mr. Wilson has examined this project, but he declares that he cannot approve the terms of it. He objects particularly to the idea of giving the Jugo-Slavs the choice between this project and the application pure and simple of the treaty of London."

Besides, the president of the United States finds that the Lloyd George project differs too much from the memorandum framed in London last December by Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau, with the collaboration of the American representative.

Threatens to Quit Europe.

PREMIERS SPURN FIUME DEMAND OF PRESIDENT

PARIS, Feb. 16, 3 a. m.—Premiers Millerand and Lloyd George have sent a reply to President Wilson's note relative to the Adriatic compromise, and hold to their position expressed in the note sent to the Jugo-Slav government on Jan. 20, giving that government a choice between the compromise or the execution of the treaty of London, according to Pertinax, the political editor in the Echo de Paris, this morning.

Mr. Wilson's charges against Italy are rejected by the two premiers, it is said by the newspaper, which declares that they asserted in their reply that Italy threw all her weight into the struggle and fought for high ideals. The number of Italian dead is recalled in one section of the reply.

While thus replying to Mr. Wilson, Mr. Lloyd George, acting as president of the conference, wrote M. Trumbitch, Jugo-Slav foreign minister, informing him that England and France maintained their original viewpoint—namely: that Jugo-Slavia must accept the compromise agreement or face the execution of the treaty of London.

from Pertinax, the political editor of the Echo de Paris, in which he said:

"Not content with dismissing Lansing, his secretary of state, in a tone that no Russian despot ever employed toward his most faulty minister, Wilson has mixed in the business of the London conference. In a note addressed to the governments of France, England, and Italy he declares that on the question of the Adriatic he holds the point of view expressed in the documents handed Italy last December by the United States, England, and France. ACTS AS STONE IN POOL

PARIS, Feb. 16, 3 a. m.—Commenting on President Wilson's note to the supreme allied council relative to the compromise agreement on the Adriatic question, the Journal says it was "a large paving stone in the conference pond." This aptly sums up the trend of French opinion. There is no attempt to disguise the fact that the incident creates a serious situation. England and France, according to the newspapers here, are "placed between the devil and the deep sea."

Although Mr. Wilson's attitude is viewed as excessive in the light of the "discredit" thrown upon his policy by the resistance of the senate, yet the fact remains Mr. Wilson is absolutely master until the spring of 1921, and that the allies are obliged to take him into account," says the Journal.

Surprised by His Action.

"President Wilson's abrupt intervention," the newspaper continues, "was less to be expected since the president himself has been exhorting the nations of Europe to put an end to the earliest possible moment to political stagnation, which has been the principal cause of economic stagnation."

Pitt Parisien, "does not seem to have taken any account of what has been done during the last two months, as if that period were negligible. He harks back brusquely by publishing a document the object of which is to call everything into question at a moment when the goal appeared to be in sight."

Most of the other newspapers comment on the situation, but their views are expressed in the same strain as those given.

Gives Support to Wilson.

LONDON, Feb. 16, 3 a. m.—The Times, in its editorial dealing with the Adriatic question and President Wilson's note, warns the allies to be careful in their reply. The Times believes the American position is substantially right, and thinks it comprehensible that the note should have caused some perturbation to members of the supreme allied council. "These recent proceedings have not always appeared inspired by right and fidelity to principle."

The council is urged to draft its reply carefully for "the allied peoples would scarcely forgive them were they guided by aught but the most mature conciliatory wisdom." The Times deals with the implication in the note that unless the allies meet President Wilson's views, he may be unable to seek satisfaction of the peace treaty or further interest himself in the European settlement.

American Aid Needed.

"We do not consider participation by the United States in the outstanding problems of peace as the absolute sine qua non of the restoration of order in the old world," it says. "But we are sure that in the highest interests of Europe the United States and humanity continued cooperation by America is desirable, as an infusion of the great force of American idealism into the affairs of the world."

"Therefore, we earnestly trust the council will give the note the ripest and most generous consideration, and ask itself whether the advice it contains may not support a policy sounder than that reflected in the somewhat immoral experience by which it recently sought to attain an end which was common to them and President Wilson."

VERSAILLES TREATY HIT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—President Wilson's memorandum warning the British and French governments that unless they accept his settlement of the Adriatic question the United States will withdraw from European affairs, may have an important bearing on the status of the treaty of Versailles, now pending before the American senate. It was said by diplomats here tonight.

Whether it means that unless the allies yield to President Wilson, there will be no treaty of Versailles, so far as the United States government is concerned, could not be definitely determined tonight. In view of the refusal of the White House to authorize any comment on the crisis resulting from President Wilson's threat to the allies, a literal construction of President Wilson's declaration that the United States would find it "impossible to continue to condescend itself with European affairs," unless the allies "yield on the Adriatic issue would mean the refusal of President Wilson to deposit the American ratification of the treaty of Versailles at Paris, even if the treaty were ratified, by the senate, with or without reservations.

Confirmed by Polk.

New York, Feb. 15.—[Special.]—Confirmation of the news from Paris that the British and French foreign offices had been notified that President Wilson could not approve of their plan for the settlement of the Adriatic question was obtained tonight from Frank L. Polk, acting secretary of state, at the home of his mother, Mrs. William Polk, 310 Fifth avenue.

"The dispatch is true," said Mr. Polk. "It was known at the time in Washington that the president was opposed to the proposed settlement."

WILSON'S VIEWS OF WAR'S CAUSE NOT MARSHALL'S

Vice President Also Differs on When It Ended.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—In a letter announcing his candidacy for delegate at large from Indiana to the Democratic national convention, made public tonight, Vice President Marshall sets forth an "old fashioned Democratic platform."

The letter is directed to National Committeeman Edward G. Hoffman, at Fort Wayne, Ind. Almost the first statement of the vice president, after his announcement of his candidacy, is that the United States got into the European war, "because it affected our internal affairs."

This caused some surprise as showing, for the first time since Mr. Marshall has entered office, a willingness to differ sharply in public with President Wilson, whose belief is that the United States entered the war to make the world safe for democracy, and to prevent future wars.

Says the War Is Over.

Vice President Marshall also differs sharply with the president and with many Democratic orators in a flat statement that "the war is now over."

The vice president's pronouncement has given rise to a conclusion among some Democrats that should the coming "democracy" be in need of an old-fashioned Jeffersonian standard bearer at San Francisco, Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana could be found with his colors flying and his banners already lettered for the nomination procession.

President Still Silent.

"Another presidential campaign impends," the vice president says. "Thus far the president, who is the chief of our party, has not deemed it expedient to express his opinion as to what the issues will be."

"As I am desirous of being a delegate at large from Indiana, I wish to state the substance of what I think the Democratic party should stand for. I would not want to go under any misapprehension as to my views upon the part of the unfaltering Democrats of Indiana."

No one save God can remove the individual as the unit of good government. Legislative efforts to produce justice and good order in society by listening and according to the demands of persons and classes will in the hour of peace produce failure.

Harks Back to Jefferson.

"The only sure foundation for a stable republic must rest upon the Jeffersonian doctrine of equal and exact justice to all men and special privileges to none."

"The Democratic party should stand for this and pledge itself to rebuild the American political structure along this line by clearly dividing its citizens into the law-abiding and law-breaking; making its laws rest equally upon all men; permitting the individual citizen who is honest to succeed by honest methods; giving to no citizen legislative advantage; speedily punishing any one who unjustly obtains success by crooked and dishonest means; recognizing this is still a federation of states; demanding that the states discharge the duties of persons and classes; resisting the usurpation of the general government; removing corrupt and biased judges, but standing always for obedience to the decrees of court and to constituted authority; insisting that the legislative branch of the government shall be responsible for the discharge of its duty and serving notice upon it that it cannot skulk behind an alleged interference upon the part of the executive branch; electing an executive pledged to discharge the countless officials and innumerable agents made necessary by the war and to administer public affairs along economic lines; even to the point of the veto of every bill carrying not only unnecessary and ill advised appropriations but appropriations for the benefit of a few citizens rather than for the common good; regulating strictly every public utility; and by punishing all these seeking to profiteer either personally or through aggregated combinations of men or money; in short, the presentation to the people for their suffrage of a man upon an old-time Democratic platform under the principle of which the republic for so many years was contented, prosperous, and inviolable."

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [By Special Cable.] LONDON, Feb. 15.—Armenian representatives are in London applying for the peace conference for the immediate delimitation of the boundaries of Armenia as follows: They demand a narrow strip on the Black sea coast, the western boundary running from Poru to Devrik, Arabkir and Malatia. The southern frontier from Malatia along the southern slopes of the anti-Taurus terminating south of Lake Van on the Persian frontier. The Armenians are demanding that Britain and France now prove whether they are the protectors of the enemy Turkey or of Armenia, which suffered for its loyalty throughout the war.

BRYAN OUTLINES RIGHT PLATFORM FOR DEMOCRATS

Indorses Wilson, Hits Military Training.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—William Jennings Bryan today outlined the principal planks he hopes to see incorporated in the Democratic national platform. He places the more important planks in the following order: 1. Indorsement of the administration of President Wilson. 2. National prohibition. 3. Woman suffrage. 4. Opposition to enforced military training. 5. Opposition to profiteering. 6. Taxation. 7. Labor problems. 8. Government ownership. 9. 16 to 1 for Prohibition.

"What abut the opposition of such states as New Jersey to prohibition?" Mr. Bryan was asked. "New Jersey is one of the states that did not ratify the prohibition amendment," he replied. "If you will examine the ratio you will find it is nearly the old 16 to 1, for 45 to 3 to 1 to 1."

"There will be a plank in opposition to enforced military training," he continued. "The action of the Democratic caucus in the house last Monday made it clear: the party will be opposed to the military measure. A vote of 106 to 17, more than six to one, is decisive. A Democratic conference, scarcely would enter the campaign rebuking its representatives in congress. The profiteer will not be overlooked. The beneficiaries of profiteering are few in number, but the competition with its victims that it will have no open defenders in the convention."

No Return to Tariff Regime. "I think it safe to say the party will declare against a return to a protective tariff and will endorse the income tax."

"Labor questions will occupy a large place in our platform. I have no doubt the party will defend the right to organize and to peacefully persuade; declare in favor of an eight hour day; favor the right of collective bargaining. I also hope the Democratic party will declare in favor of the creation of machinery for the investigation of all disputes between employer and employee."

RATIFICATION IS NEAR, BELIEF AS SENATORS MEET

Article X. and the Monroe Doctrine Obstacles.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—With conditions favorable to ratification, the fight over the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant is scheduled to start all over again in the senate tomorrow. Republican Leader Lodge will call up the treaty and the debate on reservations will be resumed. Both factions, however, are nearer together than they were last fall, and the indications are that there will be little difficulty in reaching an early agreement on the half dozen revised reservations which Senator Lodge will offer in essentially the form they were approved by the bipartisan conference of compromise.

The big fight will be over the reservations on article X, obligating the United States to assist in preserving the territorial integrity and independence of other nations, and on the preservation of the Monroe doctrine. G. O. F. Fights Weak Change. The Republicans are opposed to the article X reservations proposed by the twenty-eight Democratic signers of the round robin last week, and are holding out for the complete surrender of the Democrats on the Lodge reservation. The Democrats have been maneuvered into formal acceptance of "the United States assumes no obligation" language, which the president recently specifically disapproved. After making this concession they will not have far to go to accept the Lodge reservation which opens with this exact phrase.

Whether the president can prevent the Democrats from surrendering is the question. In signing the round robin twenty-eight Democrats, including Senator Hitchcock, weakened their support of the president's position, and further weakening is looked for. Opinion is divided as to whether the Lansing individuals will influence the action of the Democrats. Some believe that with the president's prestige at a low ebb as a result of his extraordinary dismissal of Lansing, Democratic senators, who do not conceal their dissatisfaction, will not hesitate to declare their independence of White House dictation.

May Frighten Democrats. Others think that the president's punishment of Lansing will operate to frighten the Democrats into more complete subservience. Chairman Cummings of the Democratic national committee, holds the election of a Democratic congress in the Third Missouri district as a league of nations victory.

It is impossible to obtain a finer table oil than imported Pompano Olive Oil—Adv. The Daily Chronicle says: "The separation of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing is bound to increase for the time the world's uncertainty regarding America's future action and the inability of the United States to take full part in international affairs. This will be generally regretted by Englishmen, who would like to see that part augmented, not diminished."

PARIS CRITIC OF WILSON. PARIS, Feb. 15.—All the Paris newspapers give prominence to Washington dispatches telling of the resignation of Secretary of State Lansing and his correspondence with President Wilson. The Journal calls the event "a striking example of the world's uncertainty regarding America's future action and the inability of the United States to take full part in international affairs. This will be generally regretted by Englishmen, who would like to see that part augmented, not diminished."

"President Wilson," the newspaper continues, "returns after his mysterious illness, and comes to the conclusion that Secretary Lansing, during his absence, has been ruling as Lansing wished, and dismisses him. National representation and popular sentiment are not even consulted in reaching a decision in which Louis XIV. would have used more formality."

In its editorial on the incident the Libre Parole remarks: "President Wilson, who has governed his country seven years without the least regard for national representation, who threw America into the war after winning the election on a peace program, and who dominated over the peace negotiations, returns from a mysterious illness to accuse his foreign minister of governing autocratically during his absence. Isn't that laughable?"

NO KNOX novelty has created more of a stir than the Leland, the soft felt hat with the stitched brim. The bow in the back gives the Leland a jaunty appearance, and the stitched brim holds its shape firmly—but neither is offensive to the most critical taste.

DENIKINE SUNK IN QUICKSANDS OF OWN MAKING

His Czarist Council Refuses Russian Reforms.

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
(Copyright: 1920, By the Tribune Company.)
NOVOROSSISK, South Russia, Feb. 15.—One of the main causes of the fall of Denikine was the disillusionment of South Russia. It looked for relief from the class government of bolshevism, but Denikine, instead of the constitutionalist he was represented, installed former agents of the czar in the civil government of the regions which came under the banners of his troops. To South Russia czarism again is thrice more than bolshevism.

Start of Suspicion.
Not long after the death of Gen. Alexeff and Denikine's succession to the command he announced Admiral Kolchak of Siberia was supreme authority over Russia. Admiral Kolchak then appointed Denikine commander of the southern front, which at that time was confined almost entirely to the borders of the Kuban Cossacks. The Kubans had a rada, or legislative, and the constitution had been made independent. They wanted also to keep their army separate, but at the disposal of the commander in chief. These desires of the freedom-loving Kubans were frowned upon by Gen. Denikine and those about him. In the opinion of the advisers of the general, if the Kubans were permitted to proceed the tendency might develop into a separate movement, and Denikine had declined he was for a united and indivisible Russia.

The Kubans said: "Russia can be freed from the bolshevik only if each region freed is administered according to the will of its people."
The general asserted the future Russian government must be decided by a constituent assembly he intended to summon to Moscow and that until that time all other plans would be held in abeyance.

Down of Czarism.
By late spring Denikine had established himself in Rostov, and the troops occupied a rather large and growing area. He appointed governor for the Black sea district, Stavropol, Ekaterinograd, Crimea, and Kherson. They were men who had been associated in some form with the former czarist government, and usually were familiar with the provinces they were chosen to govern. Many in these provinces resented the selection of outsiders to run their civil affairs. The activities of Gen. Denikine had been almost exclusively military, except for the appointment of the governor, until June, when it was apparent a civil government was necessary for the whole territory reclaimed. He proceeded to organize one himself.

Men in His Train.
Denikine chose sixteen who were designated by him as a special council, which was his cabinet, congress, and administrative organization combined, and sat at Rostov. At the head was Gen. Lukomsky, former chief of the staff of the army, and a Russian nationalist. They had always been affiliated with powerful interests at Rostov, when Russia really had been ruled. They were men past middle age, of fixed ideas. A powerful, orderly Russia of the future they visualized much like the Russia of old. The special council did not promulgate reforms. It was explained that would be enacted by the constituent assembly, if the assembly concluded they were necessary. The council did not among other things require the army to pay one-third of their income to the landowners. This is about as radical as the council went in its legislation, and the governing body grew in disfavor. It began to be spoken of derisively and with hatred.

Grant in Government.
There was corruption in the government of the special council. The warehouses here today are filled with the goods of the American relief, because the army officer in charge of their distribution would not come across. The American relief had an agreement with the Kubans to trade a cargo of necessities for wheat needed for relief work in the south Caucasus. The cargo of wheat was shipped out when the special council placed an embargo on exports. For seven weeks Gen. Col. E. F. McCammon negotiated for release of the wheat as pay for the remainder of the goods. He repeatedly promised after promise, but to the last permission was withheld. It was suggested and intimated to him repeatedly what would solve the problem, but he had no authority to use the funds of the American relief for such a purpose.

Newsboys Shake a Foot—and Something Else

Scene During a Lull in the Dance Program at the Chicago Newsies' Annual Ball. The Leaders of the Grand March.

John Tomasetti and Miss Margaret De Lia.

NEWSBOYS' BALL GLEAMS AS EXTRA EDITION OF JOY

Blue Bookers of the Stands All There.

Chucky Fox belled an announcement from the gallery where the jazz band sat.

Dave Pucelli, a square and rugged figure of a man, raised his shirt-sleeved arms, shouted, "Ladies and gentlemen, grab your partners," and the grand march of the newsboys' ball began.

It was a little after 9 o'clock last night in the Coliseum annex, this high point in the great social event of the Chicago Newsboys' Protective Union, Local 14,567, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

From 3 P. M. to 3 A. M.
Down the center of the hall Pucelli ushered the line of dancers, with Mickey Golark and Chucky Fox assisting him. Down the center, every man grabbing a girl and following. Down the center with Jack Tomasetti and Miss Margaret De Lia leading the march, and the jazz band whooping it up—the saxophone sounding a little bit louder than the trombone.

There were the flower of Chicago's newsboys, forgetful of income taxes and garage bills and all else save the occasion; girls in new and charming frocks; the ornate badges of the Chicago Newsboys' Protective Union, and the bouquets of long stemmed roses carried by partners of the leaders.

The great ball—the first in three years—began at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but it was not until the grand march and after that the hall was crowded, and it was 3 o'clock in the morning when the affair ended.

Notables Adorn March.
As the long parade of beauty and chivalry wended its way over the smooth wax floor, the beholder distinguished many prominent persons. There were William Chink Weber and Mrs. Weber, the latter in black silk cut low at the neck and trimmed with scarlet and gold embroidery, low shoes and silk stockings; Sam Goldman, John Kinkella, Michael Barone, Charles Strong—circulator, in evening dress—Charles F. Hancher and Miss Genevieve Cavio, Mr. and Mrs. Max Annenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Levy, Mr. and Mrs. John Eisenlord, George Baker, George Stewing, and others.

The Youngest Guests.
Just before the march breaks up into couples and the couples go waiting around the floor to a snappy strain, these are Marion and Antonio Capello, 7 and 10 years old; their brother Peter, who has a stand at State and Adams streets; Tony, Angeline and Jennie Piegari, 8, 10 and 12 years old, and Mary Pincenzi, 12 years old. There go Pucelli's shirt, sleeved arms up in the air again. The grand march is over. On with the dance!

WASHINGTON NEWS—IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—While President Wilson is reported by his private secretary, Mr. Tumulty, to be unperturbed by the storm of public disapproval of his action in dismissing Secretary of State Lansing, senators and representatives are considering how to deal with what they believe to be the critical condition of affairs revealed by the incident. An investigation by congress of the conduct of the nation's foreign affairs may be ordered.

The peace treaty fight will be resumed in the senate tomorrow, and the indications are that there will be little difficulty in reaching an early agreement on the revised reservations which Senator Lodge will offer in essentially the form approved by the bipartisan conference.

SENATOR MCCORMACK of Illinois announced that unanimous agreement had been reached by the special senate committee for consideration of a national budget.

BUDAPEST, Feb. 14.—[Delayed.]—Count Laszlo Szecsenyi today characterized as "ridiculous" recent reports that he was about to seek a divorce from the countess, who was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt of New York.

"I am the victim of many rumors," the count said. "I do not care to air my family affairs in the newspapers. It is ridiculous to say that my wife and myself are thinking of divorce, and it is idiotic to assert that I am a candidate for the throne."

MAJOR SHOOT TWO BURGLARS HE HAD TRAPPED

Hand to Hand Battle Occurs in Dark.

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—Two burglars were shot and killed by Maj. Alden L. McMurry of Greenwich, a member of the state police department, in the residence of Mrs. Eliza G. Morris at Rocky Point Sound Beach, early this morning.

The major was wounded in his right arm. Addison Bacon, a town constable, who was with Maj. McMurry, was wounded in the jaw and shoulder. Warned that burglars were in the house, after searching the first, second, and third floors, they went down into the cellar.

The major was armed with a revolver and a billy, but Bacon had no weapons. They found two men and were greeted by several bullets. One burglar was killed in a hand to hand fight with McMurry. Then McMurry saw the head of another man peering around the side of a chimney. Shots were again exchanged and Bacon was wounded. McMurry's flashlight refused to work, but he closed in. He hit the burglar over the head several times with his billy, and then shot him five times.

KING ONLY HOPE OF HUNGARY, SAYS ROYALIST CHIEF

BUDAPEST, Feb. 13.—[Delayed.]—Election of a king is the only solution of the political and economic problems pending in Hungary, Count Somssich, president of the Royalist party, said today.

Members of the aristocracy in the "lost provinces" are enrolled as members of the Royalist party.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Feb. 15.—Former Emperor Charles' secretary declared a Budapest report to the effect the former emperor was party to a plot to restore him to the throne was entirely false. This report also stated Charles had made a futile effort to enter Hungary. The secretary said Charles was slightly ill and had not left the grounds of his chateau at Frangins, on Lake Geneva, for the last three weeks. The secretary asserted that Charles, though he had not officially abdicated, wanted to be returned by the allies.

STATE REVEALS ITS CASE AGAINST 38 COMMUNISTS

Lloyd and Associates Face Precedents.

When William Bross Lloyd, wealthy Communist of Wilmette, and thirty-seven other members of the party indicted here recently, enter court on April 5, they will face a legal attack which already has brought convictions under two state syndicalist laws, it was announced by the state's attorney's office last night.

Lloyd and his alleged confederates were indicted under a blanket conspiracy charge for alleged violation of the Illinois sedition law passed by the June session of the legislature. It is charged that they organized for the purpose of overthrowing the government of the state and of the United States by force and violence.

Details of Charges.
First information as to the details of the charges against Lloyd and his associates were made public last night. In May, 1919, it is related, the congress of the Third International, with delegates from all countries having a revolutionary socialistic element, which included the United States, met in Moscow, Russia, under the tutelage of Lenin and Trotsky.

A manifesto issued by this conference, which not only is distinctly revolutionary in tone, but particularly favors the introduction of bolshevik tactics in England, France, and America, was brought to this country in German and Russian texts by couriers from Soviet Russia who were employed as stokers on various liners.

One of these couriers, carrying the German text, delivered his pouch, it is declared, to Nicholas I. Hourwich, editor of Novy Mir, a Russian paper printed in New York, and former employer of Trotsky. Hourwich gave the copy to Isaac E. Ferguson, now chief counsel for the Communist party. Both Ferguson and Hourwich have been indicted here.

Document Distributed.
Ferguson's wife, Ida, translated the document into English, and it was then published in booklet form by the Arbeiter Zeitung of Chicago.

Upon this manifesto the state will rest a great part of its claims of revolutionary activity.

The state will hold, it is declared, that under the constitution the ballot is the only legal means of reforming the government, and that all other means are unlawful.

JURY GETS SEDITION CASE.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—The jury in the case of Fred J. Dixon, member of the Manitoba legislature, charged with seditious libel in editing a strike bulletin during the strike of last summer, retired early last evening and later announced it would not be able to reach a verdict before Monday.

29 "BLOOD" REDS, EACH ONE ARMED, SEIZED IN A RAID

"Radicals of Worst Type," U.S. Game.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 15.—Twenty-nine radicals, said by secret service agents to include the most dangerous terrorists in the United States—members of the notorious L'Era Nuova group, whose creed is assassination and violence by individuals without waiting for "mass action"—were captured today by 100 agents of the department of justice in a raid on "Red" headquarters here. Every man seized was armed.

All official records of the I. W. W. for the district east of Chicago were seized in the home of Andre Graziano, anarchist. In this house, federal agents said, E. F. Doree, Philadelphia, secretary of the I. W. W., was in hiding. He is under indictment in Chicago.

Office Records Seized.

Ledgers, rosters, and statements of financial ramifications covering all transactions in Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, New Bedford, Rochester and elsewhere, were seized. The most important capture, federal officials said, was that of Ludovico M. Caminetta, editor of the Italian anarchist magazine La Jacques (The Massacre). Caminetta, a disciple of Enrico Malatesta, who founded the L'Era Nuova group twenty-five years ago, and Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert of Italy, belong to this coterie.

Reds of Worst Type.

The men arrested, federal agents asserted, "are anarchists of the worst type. They are enemies of all government, whether it be so-called capitalist or communist. They seek their ends through the use of bombs and other engines of destruction."

WILL AMERICA HELP SIBERIANS THROW JAP OUT?

Peasants Ask Correspondent About U. S.

BY FRAZIER HUNT.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright, 1920, By The Tribune Company.)

IN THE SIBERIAN HILLS, Feb. 2.—My hosts suddenly were called to a meeting at the extreme end of the one street of the village, and when we reached the house we found a single room packed with old bearded peasants awaiting to hear the word of an American.

Every soldier was ordered out of the room, so only the interpreter and myself faced these fifty men. Not one of them had ever seen an American before, but all their lives they had heard and dreamed of America.

We bargained that I would ask questions first, then we would all have a smoke. Then they should ask me any questions they wished.

"What do you most want?" I began.

"Land and freedom."

"Land and freedom," a dozen chanted.

"You want the soviet?" I asked.

"What is the soviet?"

"Land and freedom," came the answer.

"With the soviet we get land and run our own affairs. Under the czar and Kolchak they took the land away from us and we are not free," was the old answer, and the old explanation with the word "soviet," the magic slogan of all Russia.

"Do you want a constitutional assembly?" I asked.

For half a minute there was some little discussion among them, then the spokesman answered:

"Yes, we want an assembly."

It seems certain there will come some sort of a national assembly to decide what the majority want when international peace comes, but the magic of the words "constitutional assembly" that men were dying for a year ago is lost now.

But it will be the same thing under another name. It cannot be repeated too many times that these Russian farmers are going to run Russia in their own way, and no 15 per cent city men are going to check them.

What They Want to Know.

I passed cigarettes out and then they began questioning me.

"Will America help us against the Japs—will America not give us guns and ammunition?" Unless America comes we will be left alone, but we will fight until the last man is killed.

This is the type of questions I had to answer to explain America's point of view. They wanted to know, too, why American troops had been here and a score of other questions.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY MASSING ALONG POLISH FRONTIER

WARSAW, Feb. 14.—[Delayed.]—A heavy concentration of bolshevik troops is reported at three points along the Polish frontier and discussion of the soviet operations is overshadowing the peace talk, especially among the Polish military authorities. Nevertheless, discussions looking to the opening of peace negotiations, possibly in March, are continuing in Warsaw and Moscow.

A Moscow communication received here announces that bolshevik detachments have passed the Bessarabian frontier and crossed the Dniester river, taking many prisoners.

FEDERAL BUDGET PLAN OUTLINED BY M'CORMICK

Senate Bill Retains House Features.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—Announcement was made today by Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the special senate committee for consideration of a national budget, that the subcommittee, composed of himself, Senators Keyes, Edge, Simmons, and King, unanimously have agreed upon a national budget measure. This measure will be submitted to the full committee on the budget early this week and reported to the senate at an early date. Immediately after the report is made, the Illinois senator, who is a member of the steering committee, will seek to bring the budget bill before the senate for prompt consideration.

The senate bill is a combination of the McCormick bill, introduced some weeks ago, and the Good bill, which was passed by the house of representatives last fall.

Hit Expense at Source.

The features taken from the McCormick bill include those relating to the creation of a budget bureau proper and its functions, while those taken from the Good bill relate to the complete overhauling of the present auditing and accounting system of the government.

There will be set up in the treasury department a budget bureau, which shall collect all department estimates, revise them, collimate them or change them in any way essential to proper administration and economy. After this work is done the secretary of the treasury will pass on them, and after approving them will submit them to the president. The president in turn will revise the estimates.

The president, before the 10th of December each year, must submit his budget to congress.

The president is further required to furnish congress with a complete statement regarding the bonded and indebtedness of the United States; a statement regarding balances of appropriations made for former years which are available for expenditure during the year in progress; statements setting forth in detail the revenues of the government—accruing or actually paid in, and the anticipated revenues to accrue or be paid in during the year to be financed.

Treasury's Spending Cut Off.

In order to permit the secretary of the treasury to serve as a real finance officer and not compete with his colleagues in the cabinet as a spending officer, the extraneous bureaus in the treasury, under the provisions of the senate bill, will be transferred to other departments.

The features of the Good bill retained in the senate measure create a department, independent of all other departments, known as the accounting department. This department will review the expenditures made by the departments and report on them to congress suggesting improvements.

CON CON CHIEFS ASK FOR IDEAS FROM LAYMEN

Office Holders on Job as Others Lag.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

"We want to hear from the people—the office holders—of Chicago," said the members of the constitutional convention committee on Chicago and Cook county. The boys at the public talk last Friday and Saturday, and the large civic and influential business organizations were missing. The association of Commerce, the Chicago estate board, the Union League club and like organizations haven't any ideas definitely formulated. The one exception is the Chicago Woman's club. It has decided what it thinks Chicago should have. It has sent its program to other women's organizations of the state and they in turn are sending back endorsements.

Women Expect a Vote.
"And we will vote on the adoption of the new constitution," said Catherine Waugh McCulloch. "By the time the Illinois constitution is ready for a referendum the women will have full suffrage through the amendment of the United States constitution."

Chairman Morton D. Hull of the constitutional committee has received the Chicago Woman's club program. It is a plan for municipal home rule in all cities of the state.

The women's program would "increase the borrowing power of municipalities by the exemption from the general limit of bonded indebtedness of bonds issued for the acquisition or construction of income producing public utilities."

The women also desire to put the state public utility commission out of business, according to this program. The recommendation on this subject gives the "right to municipalities to acquire, construct, and operate public utilities—water, light, heat, transportation, telephone, etc.—subject to referendum if desired, and to regulate the charges and services of the same when other than municipal operation."

No franchise is to be granted by the city authorities without a referendum. Furthermore, the woman's club favors "consolidation, in whole or in part, of various local governments extending jurisdiction within the city of Chicago."

Office Holders' View.
In striking contrast with the ideas of the women are those of some of the office holders. The best example of the reactionary officialdom is a resolution received by Chairman Hull from the municipal and township officials of Providence township. They held a meeting Feb. 12.

In their meeting they resolved "that we unite our efforts to oppose any division of Cook county and to oppose making Cook county into the city of Chicago, or vice versa, and to oppose the extension of or arbitrary annexation of suburban territory to the city of Chicago, and to oppose any proposition whereby power will be delegated to the city of Chicago to exercise jurisdiction over the sanitary district or the forest preserve districts or beyond territorial boundaries."

The Hull committee will decide within a day or two whether it will hold public hearings in Chicago again next May and Saturday.

CENSUS OF FARMERS LAGS.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Farm enumerators work under the agricultural census is lagging. It was stated at the census bureau yesterday because so many farmers live in the city in the winter and are not on the farm when the enumerators call.

WEATHER SENDS 7 BELOW BLAST, THEN RELENTS

Normal Temperature
Due Tomorrow.

Well, folks, it's all going to work out pretty nicely. We had a real cold snap, but the doctors say that's for the best, as it knocked the flu a sockdologer. The mercury reached 7 below yesterday morning at 7 o'clock, but today it'll be, as the feller says, not warmer, but less cold. The needle jugged back and forth around zero during the night, but the weather man is optimistic for today, and by tomorrow, he says, the temperature will be about normal.

Drops Dead During Fire.
There were quite a number of fires yesterday. A dozen families were routed out when the flat buildings at 616-18 Greenwood avenue burned. The Swedish Lutheran church, 10135 Avenue L, caught fire from a defective flue.

One hundred children were marched out in safety. Peter Larsen, superintendent of the Sunday school, dropped dead from excitement and heart trouble.

A blizzard which started Saturday morning caused the worst blockade of the winter in western Michigan. Practically all transportation is stopped.

6,000 Cheer Envoys

The Lithuanian financial commission, which is in the United States for the purpose of raising $10,000,000 for Lithuania, was greeted with cheers by 6,000 Chicago Lithuanians at the Eighth regiment armory yesterday afternoon.

Judge Hugo Pam urged all Lithuanian citizens to remember generously their mother country, now made free by the peace treaty.

The commission is composed of John Vileishis, chairman; the Rev. John Zilius, and Maj. Peter Zodek.

Mr. Vileishis, who was formerly minister of finance, appealed to the Lithuanian-Americans for financial support. Maj. Zodek told the audience that Lithuania's troubles were not all over. He said the bolshevik forces were threatening her from Russia on the north. He explained that his mission in America was to raise a volunteer army of 100,000 men to fight the bolsheviks.

New York for the last ten days, defying the onslaughts of firemen, policemen, army flame throwers, and brigades of pick and shovel men, were frozen into ice fields tonight when the city was gripped in a cold wave which made the prospect of its release from the snow blockade more remote than ever.

While a gale swept the city the mercury tumbled steadily lower, until at midnight it had dropped to 9 degrees above zero, a fall of thirty-three degrees since early morning.

One of the most serious features of the blockade is the inability to move the stores of food which are piling up in the railroad terminals and on the wharves.

TEACHER STRIKE THREATS PERIL PENSION RIGHTS

Forfeit All, Lawyer Says;
Mortenson Differs.

If approximately 6,000 teachers of the Chicago federation carry out their threats to strike when they meet in special session this week they may forfeit their pension rights and the amounts they have paid into the pension fund.

William A. Bither, attorney for the board of education, said last night a walkout will be equivalent to a blanket resignation.

"The teachers who are talking strike because of dissatisfaction with the new salary schedule should think before they act," he said. "According to the pension laws, action of the kind the teachers contemplate automatically results in forfeiture of all pension rights."

"I do not think they will strike."

Mortenson View Differs.
Superintendent Peter A. Mortenson said he was of the opinion that in the event of a walkout the teachers would not be deprived of sums they have paid monthly into the pension fund; that instructors in the service for fifteen years are entitled to a refund of one-half the amount. Those who have taught for more than fifteen years, with the exception of those who have reached the pension period of twenty-five years, will not be entitled to a refund, he asserted.

Rumors that the board would resort to an injunction to prevent the teachers from striking were denied by Attorney Bither.

Pension Assessments.

According to the pension rules, teachers pay monthly sums into the fund from the time they start teaching until they have reached the twenty-five year period. For the first five years they pay 50 cents, the following five $1, the next five, $1.50, and the last ten $2.00.

Miss Margaret Haley, business representative of the teachers' federation, said one of the teachers' grievances was the alleged inferiority of the present supply of substitute school teachers and that continuance of this condition would "ruin the efficiency of the school system."

SULTAN STAYS IN CONSTANTINOPLE, BUT MUST BEHAVE

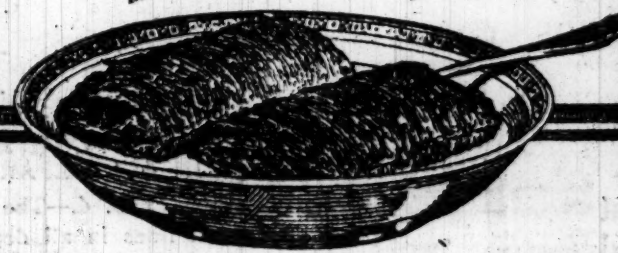

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Agreement has been reached by the supreme allied council to permit the sultan of Turkey to maintain his court in Constantinople, but Turkey must give guarantees, especially relative to the Dardanelles, and must not have an army, according to London advices quoting a statement by Premier Millerand. Further advices from London, confirmatory of the above, are to the effect that the allies will maintain vigorous military and naval control over the Straits of the Dardanelles.

Attempt to Lynch Negro Who Exposed 'Moonshine'

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 15.—Intent on lynching Andrew Jones, an aged Negro, a mob of thirty men stormed the Evans county courthouse at Claxton early today, after shooting out many of the windows, but the Negro's life was saved by Sheriff T. W. Rogers, who spirited him away and brought him to Savannah. Jones was taken into custody by the sheriff after having been attacked by two young men, who accused him of turning in information as to "moonshining" operations.

Oriental Rugs From Humble Home to Palace

IN the days when Solomon's temple grew in glory on the hills of Jerusalem, Oriental rugs were being woven and collected for the embellishment of its floors and walls. The splendor of the Levantine princely palaces, the regal magnificence of semi-barbaric emperors, have owed many of the richest and most magnificent furnishings to the cunning craftsmanship of the rug weaver, in whose humble home these marvelous fabrics grew, almost fibre by fibre, slowly into the wonderful creations that have come down to us through the years.

ORIENTAL rugs are by no means prohibitive in cost. It is true that one may spend sums reaching far into the thousands for one of these, but there are others at prices which render their purchase real economy as well as sources of justifiable pride. You are invited to visit our store and learn more about this.

VINCI'S TALE OF ENRIGHT MURDER
READY FOR JURY

the place pointed out, Vinci declares, as one of Enright's hangouts.

"Now go over to the eleven hundred block on Garfield boulevard, but don't stop, just drive slowly down the street." This time, Vinci says, it was "Big Tim" who spoke.

As they passed the Enright home the four watched carefully from the windows of the car. They then drove back and, picking up Enright's trail in the loop, followed him home, noting carefully his every move.

The next day, Tuesday, Vinci says, he was again called to Carozzo's office on the second floor of 138 North La Salle street, where Cosmano was waiting for him. They were watching Enright's office, across the street, and his car, which was parked at the curb.

When Enright's car left they followed, but lost the trail.

The next evening, Wednesday, Cosmano again took the trail, but lost it in a traffic jam.

Thursday morning, according to Vinci, he decided that he didn't want to drive the car any longer for Cosmano.

But this did not suit Carozzo and Cosmano. Cosmano secured the car belonging to Buglio and told Vinci that he must drive it.

Tells of Veiled Threats.

Vinci demurred, he declares, saying he was ill. Cosmano told him: "You are the only one besides us that knows this. If we get any one else and there is a squeal it wouldn't be nice for you." Vinci then declares that in fear of his life he consented to drive the Buglio car.

On Friday night the Buglio car was taken out, Vinci driving it. They waited for Enright outside the saloon. Cosmano, Vinci declares, fell asleep. When Enright left, Vinci saw him, but pretended himself to be asleep, and did not notify Cosmano. An hour later Cosmano woke up, cursing Vinci for his negligence. Again the killing was postponed.

Tuesday afternoon, however, Cosmano grew desperate, it is said. He implored Carozzo to get the Buglio car again, and Carozzo did. Buglio delivered it in front of Carozzo's office. Vinci, and Cosmano took up the watch for Enright.

Long Trail Nears End.

The Enright car was trailed to the Swift saloon, at Fifty-fourth and Halsted streets, where "Mossy" and his brother disappeared inside. The "death car" drew up across the street and resumed the watch. Cosmano shifted his place from beside the driver into the tonneau.

Enright appeared with his brother, apparently said goodbye to him, and climbed into his car alone. The "death car" followed him at a distance of fifty yards.

Enright was just preparing to step from his car when Cosmano, firing over Vinci's shoulder, let loose the first barrel. As the car continued its course Enright faltered for a moment and Cosmano, poking the gun through the slit in the curtain, fired the remaining barrel, the slugs hitting Enright on a direct line.

"I then took the car to Carozzo's home at 204 East Twenty-second street and left it," Vinci declared. Carozzo drove it back to Buglio's residence, according to the story told by the state's attorney.

Vinci, because of his confession, will receive consideration when his case is presented to the grand jury, the state's attorney stated yesterday afternoon.

Theft at Hotel Sherman

A clew in the $7,760 jewelry robbery at the Hotel Sherman Saturday was reported yesterday by Detective Sergeant Edward Groggin of the central detail. An unidentified man on Friday obtained a key to room 460, which was occupied by the victim and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Meyers of Portland, Ore. It is thought he may have had a skeleton key made. Meyers is a jewelry salesman. The jewels were in the top tray of a trunk. Under it was jewelry valued at $25,000, which was not touched.

CALM SCIENCE IS EVANSTON'S RULE,
EVEN TO GROCERS

In intellectual Evanston, when industrial trouble threatens, there is no unseemly demonstration. Instead the impending crisis is considered scientifically.

When all the groceries of the city agreed recently to close on Wednesday afternoons, so the clerks could spend their leisure hours studying economics in Northwestern university library, women members of the clubs praised the idea. But one grocer, C. H. Morgan, remained open.

And now an arbitration board has been named to "try" the grocer. Dr. Elmer Hugh Brown, pastor of the Congregational church, was chosen to represent Mr. Morgan and Cpl. C. H. Ketrledge to act for the grocery clerks. Dr. Harris Franklin Ralt of Garrett Biblical institute and Prof. Homer H. Kingsley, former Evanston superintendent of schools, were named as neutral members of the commission. This week a decision will be given.

The Cost of Woolens
Today—and a Year Ago

HERE'S only one of the several reasons why Suits and Overcoats will cost you more in the near future. But it's a powerful reason why you should buy during the Final Clearance Sale.

ONE will note from the clipping to the right that the prices of woolens have advanced from 50 to more than 100 per cent. Yet the prices for this year's woolens are considered low. Furthermore, the prices on the best woolens, which have shown the greatest advance, are not reported.

IMMIGRATION IS COMMENCING TO SHOW INCREASE

English Lead in Rush to Land of Prohibition.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—(Special.)—The changed conditions in Europe caused by the world war have served to change even more completely in character than in extent immigration to this country.

Although in the last fiscal year only 21,132 aliens entered this country, as against an annual average slightly in excess of 1,000,000 for the ten year period preceding 1914, the net increase in population due to immigration was more than 20,000 as against 18,000 in 1918, when immigration fell to its lowest level since 1862.

For the sixteen months up to and including last October, the arrivals and departures of aliens of sixteen nationalities were as follows:

As to Domestic Help.
Immigration in 1919 contributed but little to the solution of the servant problem in this country, only 6,277 servants arriving while 2,825 departed.

The situation as regards laborers was even worse, only 18,261 coming in as against 74,114 who went away.

U. S. Should Not Try to Be Melting Pot, Eliot Says
Boston, Mass., Feb. 15.—(Special.)—Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, speaking before the Massachusetts "Schoolmasters' club," created surprise by declaring that in endeavors at "Americanization" it would be well to recognize that each race should keep its own strength and that intermarriage between different races of people would lead to inferior succeeding generations.

"We see what has happened in Asia whenever there has been such an amalgamation. Let each race keep its special powers. You can't make anybody in America by law. This country never was a melting pot and no country ever could be or ought to want to be."

PRESBYTERIANS' $800,000 DRIVE TO END MARCH 1

March 1 has been set by the executive committee of the Presbyterian home for the closing date of the drive for $800,000 for the buildings to be erected in Evanston for the aged, the convalescent, and orphans. An intensive campaign will be waged during these last two weeks of February to get every Presbyterian in Chicago to make a pledge. The workers meet at the Union League club for luncheon every Wednesday, when reports are made and plans outlined.

Fourth church has pledged so far over $20,000. Avondale, a mission church, has raised $400. Hyde Park church reported $6,000, with more in sight. Crerar Memorial church has pledged $10,000, 250 per cent of its quota.

The home is "for worthy men and women of our church who are alone in the world, without resources, and with no means of gaining a livelihood."

125 More Churches Aid Rosary College Drive

The Rosary college endowment campaign was started in an organized manner in 125 more Roman Catholic parishes yesterday. The topic of the sermons was the value and need of higher education for girls.

The leading workers will meet tonight at the Hotel L. Salle. The Most Reverend George W. Mundelein and Attorney James G. Condon will speak. Mrs. Edward Hines, general chairman, reports progress.

A corps of speakers under the direction of Mrs. Edward J. Fleming will address meetings in several parishes this week.

Spring Suits and Frocks

Every Later Development of Mode

Spring apparel that reflects spring newness in wholly different ways now comes into especial prominence. Each mode seems to be endowed with a personality and to stand alone. Perhaps, as never before, it is possible to achieve that individuality which one associates with "custom made" by selection here.

Many elegancies and graceful touches, departures from the accepted in line, are noted in suits. Color—oftentimes vivid, brilliant with gold—accents the frocks. In the modes for youth there is always a debonaire grace expressed in line and decoration.

Suits Begin in Price at $55 and Range to $225,
Frocks in Wool and Silk Are $50 up to $225.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

The Blouses of This New Spring

Are Many in Mode and Varied in Fabric

The Finer Modes in New Separate Skirts

First there is a very new satin skirt with the fullness restrained at the hem and the wider hip line. This is priced at $25.

An accordion pleated foulard skirt achieves a delightful effect by the designs of its pattern in the pleatings. It is in beige color, a brighter tone, printed in navy blue. Priced at $30.

Tricotee skirts with wool embroidery on the pockets and belt are destined to accompany more elaborate blouses and may be chosen in white, flesh and navy blue. Priced at $40.

An Awaited Announcement—Today Begins the February Sale of "Glove-Silk" Underwear

We are indeed fortunate in the arrival of shipments which make possible the holding of this annual event. Very definite statement is made here of the continuance and the conditions under which the sale is held this year. Those who wish to profit through this occasion will find it advisable to be guided by these circumstances.

The shipments bring fine and full assortments of this superior silk underwear. The values are markedly unusual—in view of present conditions.

It is planned to hold the sale for the rest of the month, but plans are based on present assortments—so that if quantities are exhausted early the sale will of necessity be discontinued then.

No need here, we believe, to dwell at length upon the desirability of "Glove-Silk" underwear. Women know it to be fine in appearance and excellent in quality. Fit, finish, reinforcements, decorative touches, all are points of particular note. Included in the sale are the following groups:

"Glove-Silk" Vests
$3.95 and $4.45

The vests are cut very long, 34 inches, which is 3 inches longer than usual. They are made with hem-stitched tops and with either the bodice or the regular shoulder straps. To be had in pink or white.

Plain "Glove-Silk" vests, in the Sale at $3.95.
Embroidered vests, $4.45.
In size 44 they are 25c additional.

"Glove-Silk" Bloomers
$4.95 and $5.45

These "Glove-Silk" bloomers have been made with additional fullness through the hips, a practical feature which eliminates any tendency to bind. They may be chosen in knee lengths and in closed styles.
In pink, black, navy, taupe.
Plain bloomers in the Sale at $4.95 pair.
Embroidered bloomers in the Sale at $5.45 pair.

Embroidered union suits are priced at $7.45.
In size 44 they are 25c additional.

RAIL MEN GUNS, STRIKE-SPIKED, TRAIN ON H. C. L.

Want Fight on Profiteer to Be in Earnest.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Formulation of a definite program as a basis on which to continue its campaign against high living costs has been initiated by railroad labor. It was disclosed tonight by union officials.

While the wage demands of the two million railroad workers, which have held official attention since Feb. 2, will be held in abeyance at the request of the president, there is no disposition on the part of union leaders to regard their work as complete or to await altogether a final decision on the whole wage controversy by the general conference of union committees to be held here Feb. 23.

Crusade So Far a Failure.

The attitude of the union officials, while they expressed gratification at the recognition of certain of their principles by President Wilson, is predicated on an apparently general belief that the government has "got held together in any of its drives on the high cost of living spectre." Much criticism was directed at congress and the heads of executive departments during the recent wage negotiations.

The general opinion among railroad labor is expressed in this question, asked by a union official who has carried its grievances through the entire negotiations:

"Are we, as Americans, to admit that we cannot control the profiteer?"

Amplify Gompers' Plan.

The program under consideration will in no way antagonize the plan of the American Federation of Labor, which has announced an aggressive political campaign. With it railroad union leaders are in complete accord. They propose, however, an amplification of the policies outlined by Samuel Gompers, with the purpose of "benefiting all of the people while helping labor."

The program will contain recommendations to congress which all of organized labor will be counted on to support. Union heads want their ideas worked out comprehensively for submission to the general conference next week.

Combine to Fight H. C. L.

Leaders now were said to feel that the emergency has passed, and therefore they are prepared to combine in a campaign against living costs, to demand higher wages, and to request the establishment of a policy which will place all labor on an equal plane with other trades in order to "bring industrial peace."

All union officials who are to attend the general conference here have been asked to give study to the principles outlined in the letter to the president, with the thought that if additions should be made, they would be prepared to submit them without delay. The leaders hope to make the general discussion brief and lay their case before the country before the roads are restored to the owners, March 1.

"Millions Won't Rule."—Lee

Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, returned here today from Washington, accompanied by several grand lodge officers. It is understood they will complete plans for the conference of 200 general chairmen with chairmen of the other railway labor organizations in Washington Feb. 23.

Referring to last week's meeting in Washington, Mr. Lee said he would lead no independent strike of the trainmen.

"I told the executive committee that I had spent a quarter of a century building up the organization and that I would not jeopardize its existence now," Mr. Lee said. "Our brotherhood has won the confidence of labor, business, and the public by conservative policies, and for the sake of the few militants we will not sacrifice it all in an impossible attempt."

RELIGION LAGS AS WORLD MOVES ON, SURVEY SAYS

Baptist Report Tells Reason for Unrest.

Details of the survey and budget for Chicago in the $100,000,000 "New World movement" of the Baptist church were announced yesterday by Dr. J. Y. Aitchison, general director. Two hundred thousand dollars will be expended for evangelistic and educational work and for war type huts in "radical centers."

The Chicago survey was conducted by a committee consisting of Mrs. Clayton D. Colette, Frank E. Adelford, James C. Colette, Mrs. L. A. Crandall, Milton C. Evans, Albion W. Small, James H. Spencer, and Richard O. Williams.

It disclosed the fact that Chicago and other large cities grow at the rate of 35 per cent in a decade.

"It is this phenomenal growth that has brought about the present unspiritual and unhealthy conditions in metropolitan parts," the survey says.

"The foreigners flocking to America usually arrive in the cities with the religious habit broken. Lack of churches and the unorganized condition of religious education allow this habit to lapse, and the foreigner, without social or religious contact with his new country, is caught in a wave of loneliness and discontent."

Of the total budget, $5,000,000 is to be used to raise the salaries of ministers throughout the country and in the mission field.

DR. JOHN Y. AITCHISON.

BIDS FOR 30 BIG SHIPS ARE TO BE RECEIVED TODAY

Actual Transfer to Await Approval of Senate.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Bids for the purchase of the thirty former German passenger liners taken over by the government during the war will be received by the shipping board at an auction to be conducted tomorrow simultaneously with submission in the District of Columbia Supreme court by the board of its answer to the court's order to show cause why a temporary injunction against the sale of the vessels should not be issued.

Chairman Payne of the board tonight adhered to his plan to receive the highest bids obtainable for the vessels, subject to the approval of the board and the senate commerce committee before consummation of any sale.

Unless his appearance in court is required, in which case one of the commissioners of the board will conduct the auction, the chairman stated that he will offer the vessels himself at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

C. B. Ames, assistant attorney general, will appear for the board in the injunction proceedings, instituted by William Randolph Hearst, and Chairman Payne announced the board would present the same facts that were given to the senate commerce committee on Friday.

Intimation was given in official quarters tonight that President Wilson early this week would make reply to resolution offered by Senator Brandegee and adopted by the senate late yesterday asking what agreement, if any, he had made with British authorities regarding disposition of the former German ships.

He was removed to the Pullman hospital, where he died a short time later. The police believe he was struck by a train.

THE waste of coal in power plants, generally considered unavoidable, can be reduced by the Automatic Fuel-Saver.

Simple in operation, it effectively controls the supply of air to the fuel bed. Nearly perfect combustion results.

This means the better and more economical operation of your power plant with its present fuel. It also makes possible the

The results were:

A great saving in fuel cost.
A splendid increase in boiler efficiency.
A saving in man power in handling fuel.
A worth-while saving in repairs to linings, grate bars, etc.
Reduction of smoke to a minimum

The Automatic Fuel-Saver has proved thoroughly practical in the seven years of its efficient operation. The purchase price is soon earned out of its savings.

DR. SHAW AS SUPER OF SUFF

Walls of Church
Memorial

Solomon tribute to Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, given by hundreds of the suffrage convention services in the church. So great the enthusiasm that the service was carried away by the throngs delivered by Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, that, forgetting the sacredness of the occasion, it made the walls of the church echo with the voice of the throngs. Mrs. Catt pictured Shaw as a woman of a great vision and a great heart.

Granted Women

"Dr. Shaw was the creator of the world as we know it," Mrs. Catt said. "If there has been a man who has made the world what it is today, it is Dr. Shaw. She possessed a vision and a heart that no other woman of her time could have had. With her cutting edge she cut the world open until it was wide open to all of us. She put aside this rigid and assumed a gentleness and a humor."

A great chapter in the world has been closed. Whether Dr. Shaw was a leader or not, she was always a leader. In her thoughts, in her words, in her actions, you all believe that she was a leader. She was a leader, but would you have age and will to stand the world was against her. The one great message that the memory of Dr. Shaw inspires is to work for the world as it is.

DR. SHAW PAINTED AS SUPERWOMAN OF SUFFRAGISTS

Walls of Church Re-echo
Memorial Tribute.

Memorial tribute was paid the memory of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw yesterday afternoon by hundreds of delegates to the suffrage convention at the memorial service in the Fourth Presbyterian church. So greatly was the audience carried away by the eloquence of the eulogy delivered by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, that, forgetting for the moment the sacredness of the surroundings, it made the vaulted ceiling of the same edifice echo with applause.

Mrs. Catt pictured Dr. Shaw as "a superwoman and a superhuman."

Gravest Woman Orator.

"Dr. Shaw was the greatest woman writer the world has ever known," Mrs. Catt said. "If in my time there has been a man who excelled her in him. She possessed wit and humor, cynicism and sarcasm, imagination and vision, ridicule and pathos."

"With her cutting ridicule and biting sarcasm she could cut intolerance wide open until its fallacy lay bare for all to see. But as the cause gained she put aside this ridicule and sarcasm and assumed a gentler and sunnier humor."

"A great chapter in the history of the world has been written and just closed. Whether Dr. Shaw was an elected leader or not while it was being written, she was always the leader of our thought. Intolerance was her enemy—not men or women—just intolerance. You all believe in woman suffrage now that it is an established fact, but would you have had the courage and will to stand for it when all the world was against you?"

"The one great message, it seems to me, that the memory of Anna Howard Shaw inspires is to wage war against intolerance, which still is holding the world in leash. It is the enemy in every church, every well-to-do city, and every country in the world."

Noted Figures Send Regrets.

Letters and telegrams of regret were received from all over the country. Messages were read from Secretary of War Baker, Gen. Pershing, Secretary of the Interior Lane, and ex-President Taft, who was on a speaking tour with Dr. Shaw in behalf of the league of nations last summer when she contracted the cold that resulted in her death.

Memorial Service in Holland.

Reminiscences of the early childhood of Dr. Shaw in the pioneer days in Michigan were recounted by Miss Jane Adams. She told of a memorial service held by the suffragists in Holland, where she was last summer when she received word of Dr. Shaw's death.

The primaries of the League of Women Voters will be held this morning and the congress will again take up the plan of organization proposed by the executive council of the suffrage association. The plan provides for state representation at the conventions on the basis of representation in congress, plus two extra delegates. That is, each state is allowed two more delegates than it has representatives and senators in Washington.

Dues of $100 must be paid into the national treasury for each delegate seated. Associate national organizations are permitted to seat not more than five delegates upon payment of $50 dues for each delegate.

TRADE PARLEY IN MEXICO CLOSED; STUDENTS SPEAK

Mexico City, Feb. 15.—[Special.]—One of the last acts at the international industrial conference here was the adoption of the resolution calling upon the delegates to urge that various universities in home states grant yearly scholarships to Mexican students. Wall A. Pearce of Des Moines presented the plan, pledging himself to take care of one student. E. J. Aguilar, graduate of Iowa State university and a delegate from Tampico, and other Mexicans who have gone through American universities, enthusiastically supported the plan.

The Chicago delegation did not pledge. Chairman Thomas taking the ground that the Pan-American university, supported by the congress of the Pan-American union, was a better way to bring about mutual understanding. The closing address was made by Secretary William Saunders of the American Chamber of Commerce. He said the John J. Arnold plan of international finance and the pooling of war debts and guarantees was reported favorably by the committee.

BUYING HOMES FOR MOTHER IS DEMPSEY HOBBY

Salt Lake Nest Abundantly Feathered by Champ.

The Life and Adventures of Jack Dempsey.

CHAPTER II.
SISTER FLORENCE'S STORY.
BY EYE WITNESS.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Tribune Company.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 15.—Half a block before I reached the new Dempsey home in Salt Lake City all the jubilant tokens of the American ideal of affluence smote eye and ear. The victrola was tooting and the coal fire was snapping beneath a grand expanse of hardwood mantelpiece and the telephone was ringing, and later, after two young men had paid their respects to the mistress of the house and withdrawn to the rear, there was the opulent clicking of billiard balls, and all the time the billows of pink pillows on the great leather divan palpitated warmly in the sunshine that streamed through a broad window.

Everything, whatever else it was not, was certainly the coziest—the nest had been abundantly feathered and the song from it was the song of "All right"—a phrase which a tall executive young woman had frequent occasion to direct into the social telephone.

House That Jack Built.

This seat of so much elegance is the house that Jack bought, and it stands in the telephone book as:

DEMPSEY, JACK,

RES. 270 CENTER STREET.

But it doesn't belong to him. He gave it to his mother after his fight with Willard, a fact worth noting, because buying houses for mother appears to be his most expensive if not his favorite pastime.

Twenty stone steps lead up from the street three-fourths of the way to the front porch, and then there is a terrace heavily buttressed with stone. Then there are six more steps. That makes twenty-six steps, and mother is 41 years old—facts also worth noting because the other day Jack Dempsey, with the tally of steps and years in his mind, telegraphed mother that she'd better come down to him in Los Angeles and look over the place and see how she liked it, because he had it in mind to buy her another house that didn't run so heavily to steps. So she went.

Miss Florence Talks.

Thus it happened that it was not Mrs. Hiram Dempsey but Miss Florence Dempsey who answered my ring at the buttressed bungalow at 270 Center street, and he assured it was not the casual once over but a slow and scrupulous reading that Miss Florence gave the various letters of introduction which I bore from good sports, who averred that hardly since the days of antique Roman virtue had so trust-worthy a seeker after truth and confidant of it been recommended to the world as the bearer herein mentioned. All of which did not lead to over-whelm Miss Florence at all.

The fact is the family has been so worried by the maneuvers of the champion's divorced wife, Miss Cates, that any stranger coming on their horizon is a possible agent of hers, and so to all strangers they are wary of talking lest they get Jack into trouble.

Jack the Big Theme.

But Sister Florence did finally consent to talk, because the Jack theme is irresistible to any Dempsey fan. So the large framed woman of, say, about 33, with the black hair so black that it seemed to have almost a blue sheen and with the pleasant Irish voice without a brogue—sat herself down in front of the fire in her very simple but very effective costume that comprised a black silk waist and a purple skirt, and did talk for an hour about Jack and the rest of the family. A nice self-respecting sort of talker she seemed—notably cautious here and there, but genuine enough as far as she went.

It had been a big family, she began, but never, so far as she knew, any especially notable specimens of physical prowess in it until Jack came on the scene. There had been ten children in all, but three were dead now. The living were Bernard, aged 42, the misanthrope of silver, the thought, but maybe both copper and silver, who lives in Eureka, Utah. Then there was brother Joe, who is 29 and drives a taxi in Salt Lake City and who has had a good deal of sickness in his life, and Johnnie, who is 25 and whom the family calls "Little Jack"; and William Harrison, who is 24 and whom the world calls Jack Dempsey, but whom the family thinks of as "Big Jack."

Girls in Family.

Then the girls. There was Effie, who had been Mrs. Clark, but was now Mrs. William Barrow and who lived on the little farm four miles east of Salt Lake City that Jack gave mother before his fight with Fulton, and next came Miss Florence herself, who, like Effie, had been born in Logan county, West Virginia, and finally Elsie, of whom Florence, with a caressing note of the Irish voice, said, "We call her the baby girl." She, Mrs. Jack the fighter, had been born in Manassas, Colo. So were Joe and Little Jack born there. Of the boys only Bernard was a West Virginian by birth. Of the three children who had died, two were girls, and all three were young except Stella, who had died when she was about 28.

Sport Writers Wrong.

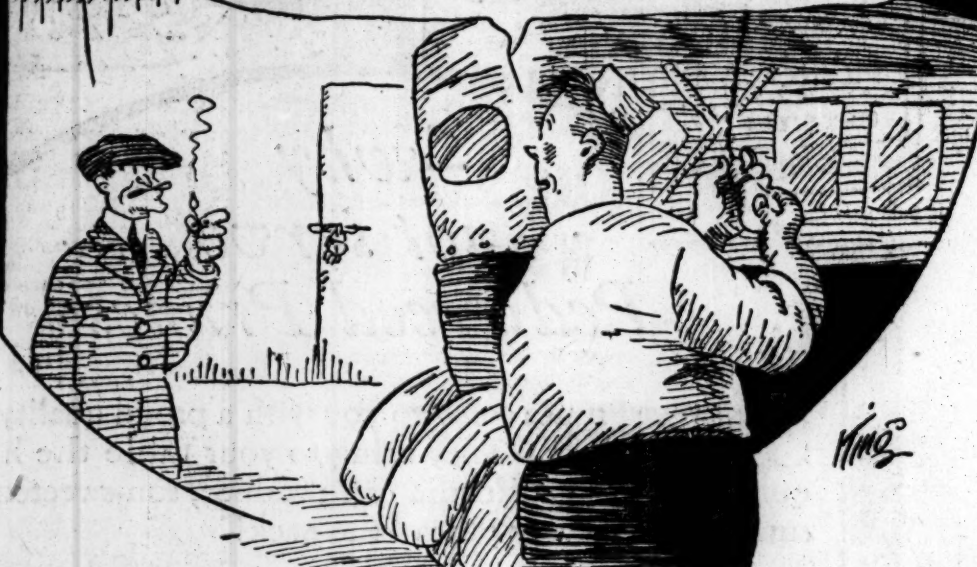

All this sober family chronicle with its copious flow of names and dates and locations seemed to dispose of the Levantine Jew yarn about Jack Dempsey and of the mock mystery that some sport writers, less precise than willing, have tried to build up about him. That is the reason I wrote it all down with a good deal of care.

One of the tragic events in the family's history that Florence Dempsey did not refer to—probably because it might become a source of misrepresentation—was the murder of the brother, Bruce. He was stabbed to death in Creek town about four years ago. It was a brawl. The man knifed Bruce and ran. That the crime could have had no justification would seem

WHAT'S THE ANSWER TO ALL THIS WASTE AND EXTRAVAGANCE AND HIGH PRICES, WALT? EVERYBODY MAKING COIN BUT THEY'RE SPENDING IT JUST AS FAST!

HERE'S MY SYSTEM, BILL! MONEY IS EASY NOW. EVERYBODY FROM THE SCRUBWOMAN TO THE BOSS IS MAKING MORE COIN THAN EVER BEFORE AND LETTING GO OF IT AS IF IT WAS RED HOT. WHEN EVERYBODY ELSE IS BLOWING HIS DOUGH IS THE TIME FOR ME TO SALT-MINE DOWN! I'M PLANTING AS MUCH OF IT AS I CAN SCRAPE ALONG WITHOUT, BELIEVE ME! I MAY HAVE TO MARRY THROUGH WITHOUT SILK SHIRTS AND SOCKS AND THE OLD BUS WILL HAVE TO DO ANOTHER SEASON, BUT WITH HIGH COST OF LIVING AND LOW PRODUCTION SOME OF THESE HIGH FLYING BIRDS ARE GOING TO BE BROKE SOMETIME—AND THAT'S MY DAY! NOW IS THE SEASON TO PICKLE SOME OF THIS STRAY COIN!

Fox May Get Carpentier's Signature for Title Battle

New York, Feb. 15.—[Special.]—George Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, and his manager, Francois Descompe, have accepted the offer of William Fox for a bout with Jack Dempsey, world's titleholder, to be held in this country either July 4 or Labor day. This information was made public tonight by Jack Francis, representative of Fox.

Winfield R. Sheehan, another representative of Fox, is now on his way to Paris for a conference with Manager Descompe. Sheehan said Saturday on the Adriatic. Before boarding the liner Sheehan divulged that he had an appointment in Paris with Manager Descompe for Feb. 24, at which time, he said, he expected to sign the French fighter.

Two Offers Are Made. According to Francis, Manager Descompe's acceptance came in a cablegram last Thursday. Announcement was withheld, Francis said, because to be proved by the fact that the man is now in prison for life. Florence told me she was a Catholic, adding: "But the rest of the family don't belong to any church—not now."

Teled News Tickles Mother. Then we got back to the older generation, and when I asked her how mother, after long and weary struggles with poverty and a big family, took the big news from Toledo last Fourth of July, she began to laugh and said: "She was tickled to death. You sure couldn't hold her down with a forty mule team that night. Father was tickled to death, too."

SKIERS NEARLY BLOWN OFF SLIDE IN CARY TOURNEY

Strom of Madison Wins Illinois Title.

Jumping under the most adverse weather conditions experienced in recent years, Steve Strom of the Badger Ski club of Madison, Wis., yesterday won the Illinois state championship at the interstate tourney conducted at the Cary, Ill., slide by the Norge Ski club.

Because of the strong northwest wind the jumpers had to run at half speed. A trap door was opened half the way up the slide after Strom and Carl Waxman of Barrington, Ill., had escaped serious injury by being blown against the side rail of the slide. Strom's accident happened on his last jump and he received a bad cut on the arm and a severe shaking up.

Waxman fared worse. He was blown into the rail on his first attempt and was shaken up so badly he was unable to remain in the competition. The officials then decided to cut the speed in half. Despite the extreme cold a crowd of 500 watched the event. Following are the leading scores:

Steve Strom, Badger Ski club, 208 points; Arne Steinar, Norge Ski club, 181 points; Carl Waxman, Norge Ski club, 185 points; Tom Norberg, Badger Ski club, 184 points; Dale Badger, Badger Ski club, 183 points; Ole Nielsen, Norge Ski club, 147 points; H. Holter, Badger Ski club, 146 points.

Honor

HONOR is the cornerstone of human relationship. It is the bond that is paid; the trust revered; the promise kept. It is the imperative command of conscience.

Honor is respect for our fellow-creatures; and, paradoxically, it is the highest expression of self-respect. Those who bear little respect for themselves show less for others. When honor vanishes the entire fabric of character begins to unravel.

In business success honor is a guiding star. It is the guardian of ideals, the preserver of fair-dealing, the open door to confidence.

In this Store honor is observed; obligation and responsibility are fostered; our word is good!

THE perpetual charm that Hats possess for every woman in Springtime is superlatively expressed by the Hats in these French Salons. They interpret in promptest fashion the style whims of Paris; they lead the American mode.

Examples are the displays featured—elegant black Hats with filmy lace veil effects, or upstanding, wired flanges, or great "chous" of malines. Very apparently Paris has inspired these; her inimitable originality influencing not only the quaint, drooping-brimmed model sketched above, of the new "bugle head" braid, with airy lace streamer, but the broad-brimmed picture shapes, or fascinating jet-trimmed styles, with dazzling, dangling jet earrings and halos of wired lace, now on display.

Tricotine or Serge Suits Attractive at $67.50

Interesting News for Women This Morning

EVERY bright Spring day makes such Suits more welcome. In another month, the woman who chooses from this assortment is very likely to pride herself on her forethought and judgment.

There is a Fine Serge Suit—Trimmed With Many Tiny Tucks

In this the tucks are arranged in close-set rows to trim the novel cuffs, the roll shawl collar and the pocket tops. At left.

Fine Tricotine Is Very Simply and Excellently Tailored

It is the wool and the workmanship which demand first attention in the Suit at the right, with its tuxedo collar and slightly flaring sleeves.

Women's Suits, Sixth Floor, South, State.

Checked Wool Serge Skirts at $15 and $19.50

Examples of the Special Values in the February Sale

THE Separate Skirt is a style detail of insistent appeal in the Spring modes. The February Sale brings such Skirts at good savings, directly traceable to our early plans and large orders.

Half-inch Checks and Oval Buckles are distinguishing details of the Skirt at the left. It is a very becoming style with its good lines, moderately outstanding pockets and buckled band trimming. $15.

Box Plaits All Around Stitched in Yoke Style

make the Skirt at the right extremely modish. It, too, comes in half-inch checks, and is a most attractive value, $19.50.

Belgian Government 5% Internal Premium Loan

THESE bonds are payable by the Belgian Government in francs. In addition to the interest return and their redemption at a premium, they offer the American investor the possibility of a substantial profit through an appreciation in the value of the Belgian franc in the exchange market.

Coupon Bonds
in denomination
of 500 francs

Interest from May 15,
1920, payable May 15,
and November 15

Redeemable within 75 years by annual drawings at 150%
(750 francs for each
500 franc Bond)

The Government has the option of retiring
the entire issue after
May 15, 1940 at a

Under provisions of the Peace Treaty and related agreements, the Belgian Government is to be relieved of practically its entire war debt incurred prior to the Armistice. In addition, it is to receive the first 2,500,000,000 francs of payments from the German reparation, to be applied in part toward liquidation of advances made to Belgium by Allied Governments since the Armistice. The Peace Treaty indicates the purpose, through reparation payments, to restore Belgium to her pre-war financial, industrial, and economic position. The diversified Belgian industry is rapidly regaining its normal production, which should enable Belgium to resume her prominent place in world trade.
